MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear SEBS Family,

It is with immense pride and gratitude that I share this message with you. SEBS continues to grow snowballing in size, diversity, and impact. With this growth, of course, come mounting challenges. As the biggest organization of Nepal that brings together alumni across generations, genders, professions, and political leanings, our biggest task remains serving the needs of a community so richly diverse while staying true to the inclusive, apolitical spirit that defines SEBS.

This has not been easy. Walking the tightrope of neutrality while still engaging meaningfully with all our members is an ongoing effort. But we've done our utmost to strike that delicate balance.

This year, we've been especially encouraged by the growing interest of younger SEBSers. Their enthusiasm and involvement signal a promising future for our organization. Equally heartening has been the generosity of many SEBSers who contributed to our initiatives a clear testament to their enduring affection for the SEBS community.

Despite the hurdles, 2025 has been a year of accomplishments. We stepped beyond the boundaries of Kathmandu, reaching out to SEBSers in different parts of the country. Notably, we hosted a Special General Meeting where we held crucial discussions and made key decisions particularly around the MoUs with the international SEBS organizations and BNKS. These steps are part of our vision to evolve SEBS into a true alumni organization - both in spirit and legal standing.

Progress in this direction, however, has been slower than we would have liked. Legal and institutional frameworks such as the BNKS Bidhan remain tethered to the pending Education Act in Parliament. In parallel, revised guidelines for NGOs are underway. Encouragingly, during our engagements with the Ministries, we learned that new provisions will formally recognize alumni organizations like ours. As Nepal's federal structure takes shape, SEBS will need to align its own Bidhan accordingly though this will take time. We understand some of our members are growing impatient, but we must remain patient and strategic, keeping in step with the evolving legal landscape.

Throughout the year, we've continued to build bridges across generations through Networking Events and dialogues. Our Alumni Talk Series has not only showcased the diverse talents of our members but also deepened the connection between current BNKS students and the SEBS family - our future alumni.

There is also increasing interest in establishing SEBS branches in various provinces. While we are optimistic about this idea, we believe thoughtful deliberation and broader consensus will be essential before moving ahead.

Before closing, I thank each and every one of you whether you contributed time, resources, or simply your presence to help keep the SEBS spirit alive. We move forward with a shared purpose, embracing both our legacy and the new energy our younger members bring. Looking forward, SEBS will continue its trademark activities like SEBS Sandhya, Meet & Greet and Networking with a richer SEBS community.

Together, we are SEBSers stronger, bolder, and more united than ever.

Warm regards,
131A Santosh Bisht
President, SEBS
